From: Kenneth Steidl Subject: RE: Message Sent Message: Hi Tim, Can you advise on the process to object to the Trial Modification Agreement? In reviewing the agreement, it appears that there are some discrepancies in the amounts listed on page 1 showing the total plan arrears. Line item number 1 states that the total of $22,799.05 is for unpaid monthly payments from February 1, 2015 through June 1, 2017. However, our records show that the trustee distributed payments in May and April of 2017 prior to the date of the agreement. This raises concern that the principal balance listed is not correct. In addition, can you provide an explanation or break down for the corporate advances? Thank you.

From: Kenneth SteidlSubject: Clarification NeededMessage:

Hi Tim,

Following today's Status Conference, Judge Taddonio instructed that we are to reach out on the Portal and outline/detail the concerns that we have regarding the trial modification:

i. The trial modification as current proposed does not credit the payments made by the Debtor, through the Chapter 13 Trustee, during the course of the plan term to date. Those principal and interest payments now total $1,765.44 and are not reflected in the proposed modification.

ii. The trial modification includes late charges of $318.64 with no references as to whether or not these are charges that were assessed prior to case filing or since the case has been filed.

iii. The trial modification lists corporate advances that total $5,642.11. A provided breakdown of these advances seems to indicate that the property inspections are occurring on a monthly basis with a charge of $346.50. There is also a charge for "escrow" totaling $262.50 which is in addition to the tax advances of $4,185.28. Debtor does not understand why there are separate entries and what comprises the "escrow" totaling $262.50. Also, the Debtor's mortgage is escrowed for both taxes and insurance. Yet, the corporate advances list three times that hazard insurance was forced placed on the residence. Debtor believes that her mortgage escrow has been in place for an extended period of time. Therefore, with the mortgage company maintaining her homeowner's insurance, there should never have been a need to force place hazard insurance.

iv. The filed Proof of Claim shows a total monthly mortgage payment of $661.80. The proposed trial modification shows that the trial payments for three months should total $1,985.40 per month. This is three times the current monthly payment amount. The Debtor questions how this trial payment could possibly be proposed in good faith.

v. There are issues with alleged balance owed on the mortgage loan:

1. The mortgage foreclosure judgment shows a total debt owed of $19,329.12.
2. The filed proof of claim shows a total debt balance of $28,798.65.
3. The trial modification indicates a total debt balance prior to modification of $27,939.21.
4. The Debtor does not understand this total lack of numerical consistency.

At the hearing today, the judge continued the loss mitigation program for this client. As soon as the order has been entered with the new deadlines, we will upload a copy of the order. We request that you reopen this file while the loss mitigation is pending.

Please provide answers to the inquiries listed above within 15 days. Without this information, it is impossible for me to instruct my debtor on whether or not she should accept this trial modification.

Thank you.

1. All payments received have been posted to the loan. A payment history has been requested and will be forwarded upon receipt.
2. No late fees are assessed once a bankruptcy is filed. The last one on this loan is from December 2016 before the borrower filed.
3. The corporate advance breakdown previously provided is attached. The $262.50 is clearly labeled as MI/PMI and not taxes or hazard insurance. The three times hazard insurance were force placed (10/3/16, 9/23/15, and 9/17/10) were due to lapses in coverage. Once proof of current insurance was provided the force placed insurance was discontinued. With regards to the inspection charges, when a loan is delinquent we send someone out every month to ensure that the property is still occupied & being kept up so as to protect our collateral.
4. The trial payment amount was $845.00 which was clearly stated in the documents (see attached).
5. I cannot speak to what was filed by the foreclosure/bankruptcy attorneys. I do not know how their figures were determined.

We are currently reviewing the file for a possible refresh on the modifica on terms. I have no further details at this me but will provide them as soon as they are made available to me. Thanks, Tim.

The amount you are referring to (see attached) is detailing regular payments that would come due during the trial period and therefore not included in the arrearage detailed above that paragraph at the time the documents were drafted. That is not what was to be paid during the trial period. I hope that clears up your confusion. Thanks, Tim.
